

Cohort rates

Aim: Attach the right rates to the right cohorts

Question: How do we get the right rates?

Issues

The case against projections

- Model implies no theory of what determines the rates - they are exogenous.
- Model does help to expose factors driving change
- Forecasting with cohort-component models means deciding on appropriate rates for migration, births and deaths